Presented by

June 20, 2017

Dr. Valerie Wanza, Chief School Performance and Accountability Officer

Daniel Gohl, Chief Academic Officer

Dr. Nathan Balasubramanian, Executive Director, Strategic Initiative Management

Why are we here?

Our expectation continues to be:

Students need to be independent readers early in their educational life in order to demonstrate mastery of English Language Arts (ELA) standards

Practitioners and leaders worked diligently to know where students were and responded to their needs

This work needs to be sustained

Ensuring Literacy Development in Early Years

Today We Will Address:

- Why, How, What?
- Early Literacy Portfolio: Project Scorecards
- Grade 3 FSA (ELA) and BAS Data
- Focus on ALL students (ELL, ESE, GT, etc.)
- Accomplishments, Lessons Learned, and Next Steps

Prioritized Initiative: Literacy and Early Learning

Overview

Status & Next Steps

Project Manager: Dr. Lori Canning
Start Date: July 1, 2016
Planned End Date: August 31, 2018

Our Theory of Action is that if young children are provided a solid foundation in social and emotional learning skills, then they will enter kindergarten ready to learn. BCPS must define and offer high quality learning environments for students in ages 0 to 4 years old through Early HeadStart, HeadStart, and VPK programs. Additionally, BCPS must partner with 800+ private providers, business community, non-governmental organizations, philanthropic organizations, county and municipal governments, and the entire community to raise the quality of literacy and human development for students prior to entering kindergarten.

	Our Theory of Action is that if young children are provided a solid foundation in social and emotional learning skills, then they will enter Kindergarten ready to learn. BCPS must define and offer high quality learning environments for students in ages 0 to 4 years old through Early HeadStart, HeadStart, and VPK programs. Additionally, BCPS must partner with 800+ private providers, business community, non-governmental organizations, philanthropic organizations, county and municipal governments, and the entire community to raise the quality of literacy and human development for students prior to entering Kindergarten. Our Theory of Action is that if students, teachers, and parents monitor reading progress with actionable information, then appropriate instruction can be provided to address unique student needs. It is necessary to know what reading level students are at, how their reading is improving over time, and how well each teacher, grade level, and school are providing support to students in language acquisition and literacy development. Additionally, it is necessary to monitor the support that local school professionals receive from BCPS departments and all interactions are based on providing high quality feedback loops to support continuous improvement. Status & Next Steps	Our Theory of Action is that if we target support to the unique needs of struggling and advanced students, then they can overcome literacy difficulty and become successful and enriched. The common destination of independent reading on grade level for all students early in life is critical to the health of our community. As we work with each student through the balanced literacy approach, we will identify students that have differentiated needs, developmental delays, and/or diagnosable learning disabilities that require additional support. BCPS must ensure that staff follows MTSS in planning, training, and resourcing the environment, and implements RtI protocols in responding to individual student needs.

Status & Next Steps	Our Theory of Action is that if all folios within the Literacy and Early Learning portfolio are implemented with high fidelity, then BCPS will be successful at creating highly literate students. Successfully having students become independent readers will require high quality plans, professional development, resources, fidelity of implementation, and feedback systems that are done far in excess of compliance. BCPS must implement and monitor the quality of implementation with the expectation of high quality practices, continuous improvement and measurable results.	<table border="1"> <thead> <tr> <th>Grade</th> <th>AP1 to AP2</th> <th>AP1 to AP3</th> </tr> </thead> <tbody> <tr> <td>KG</td> <td>27.6</td> <td>83.5</td> </tr> <tr> <td>1</td> <td>65.9</td> <td>93.3</td> </tr> <tr> <td>2</td> <td>42.9</td> <td>89.7</td> </tr> <tr> <td>3</td> <td>32.7</td> <td>80.7</td> </tr> </tbody> </table>	Grade	AP1 to AP2	AP1 to AP3	KG	27.6	83.5	1	65.9	93.3	2	42.9	89.7	3	32.7	80.7
