Att: Michael Garretson,
Deputy Superintendent
Broward County Schools

Hi Mike,

Yesterday, the City's Neighborhood Services staff showed us some very preliminary designs for the NCIP 2007-8 intersection projects at Harbordale Elementary School. They are quite spectacular and above what we had anticipated in the tremendous impact that they will have visually, and as traffic safety measures for those locations for the cost.

The NCIP staff is moving along as rapidly as possible in order to schedule a timely completion date for these projects. Prior to sending it out for bids, they will need all finances in place. Please let me know if there is anything else that you need regarding the 2008 matching funds.

In the next several weeks, the consulting engineering firm, R.J. Behar & Company, will provide design plans that we will be delighted to give you for any presentations that you may need to make about the projects.

Thanks again!
