EXECUTIVE SUMMARY Approve Contract Documents For Division 0 and Division 1

| Contractor's Responsibilities, Section 9.01 was added to comply with a amendment to Florida State Statute 119.0701, which states that the contractor must comply with public records laws. The contractor must keep, maintain, an provide public access to public records. Article 9 was inserted and previou Article 9 (Term of Agreement) then became Article 10, as it is an optional section and may not always be included. In the Division 0 Document 00700, General Conditions of the Contract, Articl 27 – Inspection, Rejection of Materials, and Workmanship, Section 27.03, habeen edited to include language that would mandate that upon failed inspections contractors would pay re-inspection fees to the District prior to the inspector conducting a re-inspection on a construction project. The Division 1 Document 01450, Quality Control, Section 1.9 - Inspections, habeen edited to include the dollar value associated with re-inspection fees an clarifies both the role of Building Code Inspectors and the list of mandator inspections required for construction projects. The Division 1 Document 01770i, Application for Certificate of Occupancy, habeen edited to include additional categories due to a change in the Florida Fir | GENERAL OVERVIEW: | |
|--|-----------------------------|--|
| Engineer: Not Applicable Notice to Proceed Date: Not Applicable Bid Amount (Original Contract Amount): Not Applicable GENERAL OVERVIEW: In the Division 0 Document 00520, Agreement Form for Hard Bid, Article 9 Contractor's Responsibilities, Section 9.01 was added to comply with a amendment to Florida State Statute 119.0701, which states that the contractor must comply with public access to public records laws. The contractor must keep, maintain, an provide public access to public records. Article 9 was inserted and previou Article 9 (Term of Agreement) then became Article 10, as it is an optiona section and may not always be included. In the Division 0 Document 00700, General Conditions of the Contract, Articl 27 – Inspection, Rejection of Materials, and Workmanship, Section 27.03, ha been edited to include language that would mandate that upon failed inspection contractors would pay re-inspection fees to the District prior to the inspect conducting a re-inspection on a construction project. The Division 1 Document 01450, Quality Control, Section 1.9 - Inspections, ha been edited to include the dollar value associated with re-inspection fees an clarifies both the role of Building Code Inspectors and the list of mandator inspections required for construction projects. The Division 1 Document 01770i, Application for Certificate of Occupancy, ha been edited to include additional categories due to a change in the Florida Fir | Type of Contract: | Contract Documents |
| Notice to Proceed Date: Not Applicable Bid Amount (Original Contract Amount): Not Applicable GENERAL OVERVIEW: In the Division 0 Document 00520, Agreement Form for Hard Bid, Article 9 Contractor's Responsibilities, Section 9.01 was added to comply with a amendment to Florida State Statute 119.0701, which states that the contractor must comply with public records laws. The contractor must keep, maintain, an provide public access to public records. Article 9 was inserted and previou Article 9 (Term of Agreement) then became Article 10, as it is an optiona section and may not always be included. In the Division 0 Document 00700, General Conditions of the Contract, Articl 27 – Inspection, Rejection of Materials, and Workmanship, Section 27.03, ha been edited to include language that would mandate that upon failed inspection contractors would pay re-inspection fees to the District prior to the inspect conducting a re-inspection on a construction project. The Division 1 Document 01450, Quality Control, Section 1.9 - Inspections, ha been edited to include the dollar value associated with re-inspection fees an clarifies both the role of Building Code Inspectors and the list of mandator inspections required for construction projects. The Division 1 Document 01770i, Application for Certificate of Occupancy, ha been edited to include additional categories due to a change in the Florida Fir | Architect: | Not Applicable |
| Bid Amount (Original Contract Amount): Not Applicable GENERAL OVERVIEW: In the Division 0 Document 00520, Agreement Form for Hard Bid, Article 9 Contractor's Responsibilities, Section 9.01 was added to comply with a amendment to Florida State Statute 119.0701, which states that the contracto must comply with public records laws. The contractor must keep, maintain, an provide public access to public records. Article 9 was inserted and previou Article 9 (Term of Agreement) then became Article 10, as it is an optiona section and may not always be included. In the Division 0 Document 00700, General Conditions of the Contract, Articl 27 – Inspection, Rejection of Materials, and Workmanship, Section 27.03, ha been edited to include language that would mandate that upon failed inspections contractors would pay re-inspection fees to the District prior to the inspecto conducting a re-inspection on a construction project. The Division 1 Document 01450, Quality Control, Section 1.9 - Inspections, ha been edited to include the dollar value associated with re-inspection fees an clarifies both the role of Building Code Inspectors and the list of mandator inspections required for construction projects. The Division 1 Document 01770i, Application for Certificate of Occupancy, ha been edited to include additional categories due to a change in the Florida Fir | 0 | Not Applicable |
| (Original Contract Amount): Not Applicable GENERAL OVERVIEW: In the Division 0 Document 00520, Agreement Form for Hard Bid, Article 9 Contractor's Responsibilities, Section 9.01 was added to comply with a amendment to Florida State Statute 119.0701, which states that the contractor must comply with public records laws. The contractor must keep, maintain, an provide public access to public records. Article 9 was inserted and previou Article 9 (Term of Agreement) then became Article 10, as it is an optiona section and may not always be included. In the Division 0 Document 00700, General Conditions of the Contract, Articl 27 - Inspection, Rejection of Materials, and Workmanship, Section 27.03, ha been edited to include language that would mandate that upon failed inspections contractors would pay re-inspection fees to the District prior to the inspector conducting a re-inspection on a construction project. The Division 1 Document 01450, Quality Control, Section 1.9 - Inspections, ha been edited to include the dollar value associated with re-inspection fees an clarifies both the role of Building Code Inspectors and the list of mandator inspections required for construction projects. The Division 1 Document 01770i, Application for Certificate of Occupancy, ha been edited to include additional categories due to a change in the Florida Fir | Notice to Proceed Date: | Not Applicable |
| GENERAL OVERVIEW: In the Division 0 Document 00520, Agreement Form for Hard Bid, Article 9 Contractor's Responsibilities, Section 9.01 was added to comply with a amendment to Florida State Statute 119.0701, which states that the contractor must comply with public records laws. The contractor must keep, maintain, an provide public access to public records. Article 9 was inserted and previou Article 9 (Term of Agreement) then became Article 10, as it is an optiona section and may not always be included. In the Division 0 Document 00700, General Conditions of the Contract, Articl 27 – Inspection, Rejection of Materials, and Workmanship, Section 27.03, ha been edited to include language that would mandate that upon failed inspections contractors would pay re-inspection fees to the District prior to the inspecto conducting a re-inspection on a construction project. The Division 1 Document 01450, Quality Control, Section 1.9 - Inspections, ha been edited to include the dollar value associated with re-inspection fees an clarifies both the role of Building Code Inspectors and the list of mandator inspections required for construction projects. The Division 1 Document 01770i, Application for Certificate of Occupancy, ha been edited to include additional categories due to a change in the Florida Fir | Bid Amount | |
| In the Division 0 Document 00520, Agreement Form for Hard Bid, Article 9 Contractor's Responsibilities, Section 9.01 was added to comply with a amendment to Florida State Statute 119.0701, which states that the contractor must comply with public records laws. The contractor must keep, maintain, an provide public access to public records. Article 9 was inserted and previou Article 9 (Term of Agreement) then became Article 10, as it is an optiona section and may not always be included. In the Division 0 Document 00700, General Conditions of the Contract, Articl 27 – Inspection, Rejection of Materials, and Workmanship, Section 27.03, ha been edited to include language that would mandate that upon failed inspections contractors would pay re-inspection fees to the District prior to the inspector conducting a re-inspection on a construction project. The Division 1 Document 01450, Quality Control, Section 1.9 - Inspections, ha been edited to include the dollar value associated with re-inspection fees an clarifies both the role of Building Code Inspectors and the list of mandator inspections required for construction projects. The Division 1 Document 01770i, Application for Certificate of Occupancy, ha been edited to include additional categories due to a change in the Florida Fir | (Original Contract Amount): | Not Applicable |
| facility has a fire sprinkler system. | | In the Division 0 Document 00520, Agreement Form for Hard Bid, Article 9 – Contractor's Responsibilities, Section 9.01 was added to comply with an amendment to Florida State Statute 119.0701, which states that the contractor must comply with public records laws. The contractor must keep, maintain, and provide public access to public records. Article 9 was inserted and previous Article 9 (Term of Agreement) then became Article 10, as it is an optional section and may not always be included. In the Division 0 Document 00700, General Conditions of the Contract, Article 27 – Inspection, Rejection of Materials, and Workmanship, Section 27.03, has been edited to include language that would mandate that upon failed inspections, contractors would pay re-inspection fees to the District prior to the inspector conducting a re-inspection on a construction project. The Division 1 Document 01450, Quality Control, Section 1.9 - Inspections, has been edited to include the dollar value associated with re-inspection fees and clarifies both the role of Building Code Inspectors and the list of mandatory inspections required for construction projects. The Division 1 Document 01770i, Application for Certificate of Occupancy, has been edited to include additional categories due to a change in the Florida Fire Prevention Code which requires monitoring of fire alarm systems whenever a |