Event Description: Broward County Week of the Ocean (WOTO) is an annual marine fair education program designed to encourage students to appreciate, protect and use the oceans wisely. K-12 students from Broward County public, private, and charter schools may submit entries to the fair in the following categories: ocean themed posters, ocean-related science projects, marine crafts, ocean art, poetry, satire, underwater habitats, photography, sand sculpture, and CDs or DVDs on a marine topic. Entries are judged by professionals, and displayed in a public place for community viewing. Ribbons and trophies are awarded to first, second, and third place winners. WOTO is free and open to the public.
